2017 Wallace, 92 Points

This is a nice drink. Thrills with a chill! I wish I didn't have to write anything more because to do so, chortles on and contradicts the spirit of a wine that is gulpable because – and not despite of – its virtuous simplicity. Sweet berry fruit notes sashay to Turkish delight and kirsch, all licked by briar and a dash of vanillin oak. There is old-turf-vinosity to this, with length and effusive energy.

2017 Wallace, 92 Points

An impeccably melded blend that celebrates the cool 2017 season in the northern Barossa in a fragrant bouquet of pot pourri, tangy red berry fruits and layers of exotic spice. A juicy and fruity palate is beautifully brightened by cool season tang and backed by fine tannins of Ben Glaetzer polish. An enticing quaffer and a great bargain.

Robert Parker Wine Advocate

2017 Wallace, 90+ Points

Yes, the 2017 Wallace Shiraz-Grenache blend is heavily weighted toward Shiraz (as usual), but it's the Grenache that makes itself known on the nose, adding lovely florals and raspberries to the slightly darker toned fruit of the Shiraz. Medium to full bodied, this is a supple yet crisp-perhaps a bit youthful and angular-but finishes with silky tannins and plenty of length. In another year or two, it might rival the impressive 2016.

Huon Hooke, The Real Review

2017 Wallace, 89 Points

Smoked meat charcuterie and slight reductive aromas, subdued and funky. The wine is light to medium-weight and finely tuned, with intensity and brightness but not so much richness or volume. Red fruits. Elegant and balanced. Very good value.

The Wine Front

2017 Wallace

Blackberry, raspberry, roast beef, flowers and mint. Medium-bodied, a little earthy, spearmint and chocolate, tart acidity buried in ripe fruit, grainy tannin, decent length. Solid. 90 points.
